CLEVELAND WINS A GREAT CONTEST

Chicagos and the Phillies Each Pull Off Easy Games.

GENERAL BASEBALL NEWS OF THE DAY

That very genial and confident gentleman, Jeems Mutrie had a nice little scheme mapped out yesterday that did not work by any means. Before he, with his aggregation of Giants, left the hotel for the grounds Jeems and Buck Ewing arranged a plan by which the pride of Pittsburg was to be knocked out without a run. The entire details of the plan were kept secret. When the team and the manager arrived at the grounds, however, the genial manager disthe home team would not be shut out, but the result would be 6 to 2 against them. It is now a matter of history that the plans and calculations of Messrs. Mutrie and Ewing were knocked clean out of sight. The truth is the Giants were the luckiest people that ever entered into a contest to get a run at all. The two that are recorded to their credit were not altogether merited by their goods deeds, and they were scored at the very last stage of the game at that. As it was, however, the run getting of the Giants caused considerable un easiness among the 2,220 spectators. It reall did look at the last moment as if a chapter of errors was going to blight all the hopes an cheerful expectations of the crowd, and cer-tainly the air for five or ten minutes was full of

A VERY GOOD GAME. The game was a good one, and the weath was extremely fine. There were many featur that drew forth well-merited applause. Thelding of the visitors was excellent, and the only fielding error they made was a wild throw in by Gore. So much cannot be said of their batting, however, and if yesterday's game is to be taken as a criterion we might as well lay claim to the pennant ourselves. The sluggers from the East were sadly at sea with Staley; they couldn't touch him. Staley undoubtedly red a game that may safely be termed firs class. His speed was great and be had a much better command of the ball than usual. Miller caught him well, and the general support accorded him was of the very best kind. Hanler, Juniap, Sunday and Smith all played well. On the other hand Mickey Welch was something like strawberry jam for the bome talent, and almost all of them seemed to enjoy it exceedingly.

THE BIG SLUGGERS. Carroll and Dunlap were out for all the good things they could get. Each was five times at bat and each had four hits. Dunlap, however, had four hits and a life, while Carroll had for had four hits and a life, while Carroll had four hits and a retirement at first. Carroll, how-ever, hanged the ball away, just whacking it as a hutcher would a bullock. Dunlap's hitting was of the scientific kind, because every time he went to bat there were men on bases, and Fred just placed hits in nice comfortable lo-calities. Undoubtedly, Welch was hit so freely that the fielders were kept very busy and even at that there was not much encouragement for them. They played a plucky game, however. at that there was not much encouragement for them. They played a plucky game, however, and as above intinated, gave the Pittsburg enthusiasts the shakes to a very great extent.

For the first three innings the contest was one-really between the pitchers. The first inning may probably be excepted, but for each side that inning was singuiar. After Hanlon and Sunday had gone out, Carroll and Miller made twospleudid singles, but a short grounder by Dunlap retired the side. For the visitors Gore made a corking single to left and reached second on a wild pitch, Tiernan fiew out, and Ewing made a good single to right and Gore got to third, Staley settled down and struck Connor out amid cheers, and Eichardson's fly dropped into Hanlon's hands amid the groans of Jim Mutrie.

In the fourth inning the home sluggers fairly found the measure of New York's smiling pitcher. They jumped onto him as If intending to gobble him up with sait. The burly Carroll commenced with a lively single to left, and Miller came up smiling responsive to the goodnatured look of Mickey. Smiles didn't go far, however, as Miller thumped a ball with

PORCUPINE QUILLS ON, tearing the grass up by the roots as it went along. Before O'Rourke could lay hands on that very hot ball Miller was at second base and Carroll was home. Dunlap dropped a nice little fly into right field and Miller scored. Two little fly into right field and Miller scored. Two earsed runs.

In the next inning Hanlon led off with a cheerful double over Tiernan's head and Sunday was easily retired at first. Carroll came again with a good single and Hanlon scored. O'Rourke threw the ball wildly to the plate and Carroll reached third. Miller went out at first, but Dunlap found the leather for two bases. He knocked the bail very cunningly into right field. Carroll came in with the fourth earned run.

In the seventh inning Carroll led off and banged the bail clean to the right-field fence for three bases. This aroused the euthusiasm of the crowd to a high degree. After Miller had been retired Dunlap brought Carroll home by a single to right field.

The visitors made their runs in the ninth inning. Tiernan led off and hit for a splendid double to center, and reached third on a passed ball. Ewing flew out to Hanlon and Connor got his base on balls. Richardsen followed with a single to left and Tiernan scored. Smith fumbled O'Rourke's grounder and Connor scored. There were now two men on bases and only one man out. Many people thought that Staley was weakening, but they were deceived. Hatfield was retired at first and Arthur Whitney went out on a foul fly to Miller and the agony was over.

McQuaid umpired a good game. In the and the agony was over.

McQuaid umpired a good game. In the early part of the game there was much grumbling about Welch's left foot being out of the box. The umpire did not interfere, however. Ewing played extremely hard to win. Follow-

The Spiders Win a Great Game From the

CLEVELAND, July 5.-Nearly 6,000 people saw the Clevelands whitewash the Bostons to-day. The game was a very remarkable one. The Clevelands outplayed the champions, however, in every respect. Their runs were made with two men out. Tebeau got first on a liner, which was fielded to second, catching Radford. Zim-mer then hit to left field for three bases. Kelly misjudged it, and, when he got the ball, threw it wild to second. In the meantime Tebeau and Zimmer had crossed the plate. Score:

PHILADELPHIA, July 5.—The annual contest for the Childs cup, a handsome and valuable trophy donated by George W. Childs Esq., took place this afternoon over the National course, on the Schuyikill river, one and a half miles straight away, and the Cornell eight, who won the Sharpless cup in yesterday's races, were the victors, their only competitor being the eight from the University of Pennsylvania. The race was a remarkable one, the Cornells winning in the last 100 yards, after the spectators had all made up their minds that the cup, which was won last summer by the Cornells, would this year be carried off by the University boys. The Cornells won despite the fact that their boat shipped 75 or 100 pounds of water, which they carried over the course with them. Time, 6:80. Cornell's Team Wine a Race.

A Little Inside History. PRECIAL TRLEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.: CLEVELAND, July 5.—Late on Thursday evening the old Detroit League club sued the Boston club for $500 and interest, and attached Boston club for $500 and interest, and attached the receipts of the games of the Fourth in the hands of the Cleveland club. It is a move that the old Detroit club has been contemplating all the year, only waiting for Boston to get here to move. The suit is one of the side issues of the Detroit sell out. Boston agreed to take Brouthers, Bennett, Richardson, Ganzel and White. It did not want White, but agreed to take him for the moral effect it had on the other men. When they signed and White grew obstreperous it gave Boston a chance to get out, and it agreed to pay Detroit $800 to take him off its hands. He secured the League's consent and transferred White to Pittsburg. This was in March. After it was done Boston cooly repudiated the deal and Stearns now sues.

To-morrow the American riflemen will practice with the English Martini-Henry rifles. On Sunday they will take up quarters at Wimbledon.

Jockey McLaughile in Town. Jockey McLaughlin, the famous jockey, passed through the city last evening on his way from New York to Chicago. He was not inclined to talk much. He stated that he was on his way to ride Santalene at Chicago to-day, and expects to ride a winner. He has considerable difficulty in keeping down to weight, and has to be accompanied by a trainer. McLaughlin speaks well of racing prospects, and says that Raceland is a great horse.

Western Railway a large supply to the docks of the Pittsburg, Fairport and North-western Dock Company. The President, E. western Dock Company. The President, E. L. Robbins, is now locating the stations, and it is proposed to accumulate large stocks at various ports as far up as Duluth. It is also proposed to establish a line of steamers to run from Fairport to the Northwest to carry coal one way and return with ore.

While navigation is open the storage depots can be supplied with sufficient coal to last all winter, and thus increase consumption eventually to the extent of the ability to ship, which will be almost unlimited.

Wife's Head, Besides Other Violence. Last evening Mrs. Elizabeth Ackerman entered charges of felonious assault and aggravated assault and battery before Alderman Hartman against her husband, Henry man Hartman against her husband, Henry Ackerman. She alleges that her husband struck her on the head with a plate glass mirror, which broke, and cut a gash in her scalp. She went to the Alderman's office, entered suit against him, and then had the wound dressed. When she went back home again her husband picked up a butcher knife and chessed her out. A warrant was issued for the arrest of Ackerman. issued for the arrest of Ackerman.

A GOVERNOR'S CASE.

KANSAS CITY, July 5.—Judge Field, in the Circuit Court this afternoon, decided the suit of D. R. Francis, Governor of Missouri, against B. B. Lions and F. E. Price, of Sedalia. The suit was brought to recover the face value of two notes for $5,000 given by the defendants as collateral security for dealing in margins in wheat on the St. Louis market through Governor Francis' firm. A change of venue was taken from St. Louis to Judge Field's court

Causes a Gas Explosion and Seriously Burns a Small Boy. The 4-year-old son of William Teese, reding at the corner of Thirty-ninth and South streets, was fatally burned last evening by the explosion of natural gas. The ing by the explosion of natural gas. The child was playing with some firecrackers on the street near his home. It is supposed that he dropped a lighted cracker into the manhole of the gas main. The gas exploded, setting fire to the clothing of the boy. He was terribly burned before assistance could be rendered him. He was taken to his home and Dr. Brown summoned. He found the child so badly burned about the limbs and body that his recovery is impossible. No other damage resulted from the explosion.
